MFoA Calls All Aspiring Junior Photographers

Where Are the Festival Art Barrels?

Marblehead, MA (July 20, 2006) – The Marblehead Festival of Arts is sponsoring a Photographer's Scavenger Hunt and invites all junior photographers try to locate the 2006 Festival Art Barrels and submit their photos for posting on the Festival website. At this year's Festival, plain trash barrels were transformed into works of art for the town of Marblehead by kids attending special painting workshops at Farmer's Market and at Children's Festival.

These Art Barrels have been placed at various locations around town, including this Art Barrel pictured at Redd's Pond. The Festival invites aspiring junior photographers to find all the other art barrels, take pictures of the barrels showing their locations, and submit the photos to the Festival, to be published on the Festival website: www.MarbleheadFestival.org

HINT: A total of 12 Festival Art Barrels exist.

Photos may be sent to: ArtBarrels@MarbleheadFestival.org

Please include the barrel location, the photographer's name, and phone number so the Festival may contact you before publishing the photos.

Founded in 1962, the Marblehead Festival of Arts has a rich history in producing a premier summer arts festival that has become a unique forum for artistic expression. Traditionally held each year over July 4th weekend, the Marblehead Festival of Arts hosts a wide range of art exhibits (painting, sculpture, photography, drawing, etc.), outdoor music concerts overlooking Marblehead Harbor, Writer's World, the Street Festival, Children's Festival, Artisans' Marketplace and many other cultural activities designed to provide a fun and enriching experience for the entire family.

The Marblehead Festival of Arts is run by an all-volunteer organization comprised of more than forty committees and involving several hundred volunteers. It operates year round and relies primarily on donations to fund its operations. Individuals, families, and businesses may become Festival Sponsors by making a tax-deductible contribution.
